Goal 1
Develop ethical leaders through academic excellence.
The University of Northern Philippines sustained and strengthened development programs for professors and non-academic staff under the Cadorna Administration. Programs aligned with developing ethical leaders through academic excellence are continued to be implemented as the University maintains a vibrant academic atmosphere and increases overall efficacy and productivity. These initiatives foster a culture of continuous learning, encourage personal development, and offer chances for continued professional progress.
Collaboration, information exchange, and social impact significantly improve as we connect with other institutions and civil society groups. The University collaborates on research initiatives, sends staff and students for various training and learning opportunities, shares resources, and works together to solve social problems through cultivating these partnerships. These collaborations have resulted in creative answers, capacity development, and a broader influence on society's well-being.

Enhance the implementation of quality assurance and outcomes-based education.
UNP affirms its commitment to ensuring uniform procedures for curriculum creation, course delivery, and student evaluation in educational institutions by using ISO 9001:2015 principles. This encourages a culture of ongoing development, raising the standard of instruction and student performance. The university finds this useful as we develop efficient feedback systems, encourage faculty-student collaboration, and simplify administrative procedures.
Dr. Cadorna is ever supportive and certain that as our university programs are assessed and given recognition for conforming to strict quality criteria by certifying organizations through the accreditation process, this ensures that UNP programs provide a quality education that satisfies industry and academic requirements by acting as a badge of assurance and authenticity.
Dr. Cadorna also affirms that empowering faculty through training in book writing and instructional material development enhances their ability to contribute valuable educational resources. This capacity-building initiative equips them with the necessary skills to create impactful publications, fostering a culture of knowledge dissemination and academic excellence at the university.

Goal 5
Uphold university without borders.
Upholding the concept of a university without borders is important in today's globalized world. Echoing the UNP Vision, a borderless university emphasizes the value of inclusivity, diversity, and collaboration in the academy.
By removing barriers such as physical distance, cultural differences, and socioeconomic constraints, UNP promotes equal access to knowledge, fosters cross-cultural understanding, and encourages the exchange of ideas and perspectives.
It enables individuals from all backgrounds to engage in intellectual discourse, expand their horizons, and contribute to the advancement of society on a global scale.

Goal 6
Create a brand for the university.
Creating a strong brand for UNP is of paramount importance. Dr. Cadorna affirms that a well-defined brand helps establish the university's unique identity and positioning in the competitive education landscape. It enhances recognition and credibility, attracting prospective students, faculty, and donors.
A strong brand also fosters a sense of belonging and loyalty among current students, employees, and other university stakeholders. Branding facilitates effective communication, aids in recruitment efforts, and enables strategic partnerships, ultimately contributing to the university's long-term success and reputation.

Goal 7
Ensure good governance.
Commitment to excellence and institutional sustainability is of utmost importance for the long-term success and growth of any organization. Dr. Cadorna advocates that by striving for excellence in every aspect of our University operations, UNP can continuously improve and stay abreast in trends in instruction, research, extension, and administrative management. This commitment fosters a culture of innovation, high performance, and continuous learning, leading to enhanced outcomes and stakeholder satisfaction leading to institutional sustainability.
Institutional sustainability, then, ensures UNP's ability to adapt to changing circumstances, maintain financial stability, and fulfill its mission and responsibilities to stakeholders, thereby securing its long-term viability. This involves adopting modern technologies and systems that enable seamless integration and synchronization of our office operations.
We have also a clearly defined University planning system that is crucial for effective decision-making and resource allocation. Our University ensures that all departments and units are aligned towards common goals and objectives. This would promote collaboration, eliminate redundancies, and optimize resource utilization. All are critical steps towards modernizing our University services, and ensuring effectiveness in the rapidly evolving digital landscape.

Goal 8
Advocate fair play.
The Cadorna administration respects the practice of academic freedom. Academic freedom fosters intellectual growth, encourages critical thinking, and promotes innovation within the University.
As UNP advocates for fair play, we create an environment that supports the exploration of diverse perspectives, encourages the development of new knowledge, and allows for the open exchange of ideas.
This freedom enables UNP employees to engage in rigorous research, express their opinions, and challenge prevailing theories, contributing to the advancement of knowledge and the development of society as a whole. This is particularly crucial in fostering a climate of intellectual honesty and integrity, as it encourages individuals to explore controversial or unpopular ideas and engage in critical discourse.
